THE SEASON OF LENT

Our liturgical preparation for Easter takes place through three distinct periods or steps. The first was Pre-Lent. The second is Lent, which is the time between Ash Wednesday and Judica. The final step is Passiontide and Holy Week.

ASH WEDNESDAY takes its name from the ceremony of ashes. We begin our journey by mourning for our sins and setting our faces toward Jerusalem. The Sundays are all given Latin names. Those names come from the first word or phrase of the Introit assigned for the day.

The first Sunday is called INVOCAVIT, which means “He shall call.” It comes from Psalm 91: “He shall call upon Me, and I will answer Him.” The Gospel is Our Lord’s temptation in the desert and the Psalmist gives voice to Our Lord’s prayer as He faces Satan in order to deliver us from evil.

The second Sunday is called REMINISCERE, which means “remember.” It comes from Psalm 25: “Remember, O LORD, Thy tender mercies and Thy loving-kindnesses.” The Gospel is the account of the Canaanite woman’s terrible battle with Our Lord for her demon-possessed daughter. The woman holds Our Lord to His Word. She insists that He remember His promises and be the Messiah.

The third Sunday is called OCULI, which means “Mine eyes.” It also comes from Psalm 25: “Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD, for He shall pluck my feet out of the net.” The Gospel recounts the healing of a deaf and mute man. His eyes were rightly on the Lord.

The fourth Sunday is called LAETARE, which means “rejoice.” It comes from Isaiah 66: “Rejoice ye with Jerusalem and be glad with her: all ye that love her.” The Gospel is the feeding of the five thousand who had ample cause for rejoicing. The fifth Sunday, JUDICA, is the beginning of Passiontide.

In Lent, we continue to abstain from the “Alleluias” and Greater Gloria. The color is violet to signify mourning for a monarch. Flowers no longer adorn the Altar and the zimbelstern will be silent. The Litany will be used for the Prayer of the Church on Sundays and for the Preparation in the midweek services. The Thanksgiving after the Holy Communion changes from “O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, and His mercy endureth forever,” to “As often as you eat this bread and drink this cup: you do show the Lord’s death till He comes,” and a second Post-Communion Collect is added in the midweek services. The Crucifixes and Cross, however, remain unveiled and we retain the Gloria Patri. We also add the Collect for Ash Wednesday to every Service. As is the case with all fasting in Christendom, we give things up to subdue our flesh and to enhance our joy in them when they return. For the time comes, indeed, when we shall fast no more.

This season is meant to order our hearts and minds upon not only on the terrible cost of Our Lord’s gracious sacrifice on our behalf but also on His willingness to be our Savior and to reconcile us to His Father. So also, the entire season, as even our entire faith and persons, is observed in the sure and certain knowledge of the Resurrection.

THE SEASON OF LENT

Our liturgical preparation for Easter takes place through three distinct periods or steps. The first was Pre-Lent. The second is Lent, which is the time between Ash Wednesday and Judica. The final step is Passiontide and Holy Week.

ASH WEDNESDAY takes its name from the ceremony of ashes. We begin our journey by mourning for our sins and setting our faces toward Jerusalem. The Sundays are all given Latin names. Those names come from the first word or phrase of the Introit assigned for the day.

The first Sunday is called INVOCAVIT, which means “He shall call.” It comes from Psalm 91: “He shall call upon Me, and I will answer Him.” The Gospel is Our Lord’s temptation in the desert and the Psalmist gives voice to Our Lord’s prayer as He faces Satan in order to deliver us from evil.

The second Sunday is called REMINISCERE, which means “remember.” It comes from Psalm 25: “Remember, O LORD, Thy tender mercies and Thy loving-kindnesses.” The Gospel is the account of the Canaanite woman’s terrible battle with Our Lord for her demon-possessed daughter. The woman holds Our Lord to His Word. She insists that He remember His promises and be the Messiah.

The third Sunday is called OCULI, which means “Mine eyes.” It also comes from Psalm 25: “Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD, for He shall pluck my feet out of the net.” The Gospel recounts the healing of a deaf and mute man. His eyes were rightly on the Lord.

The fourth Sunday is called LAETARE, which means “rejoice.” It comes from Isaiah 66: “Rejoice ye with Jerusalem and be glad with her: all ye that love her.” The Gospel is the feeding of the five thousand who had ample cause for rejoicing. The fifth Sunday, JUDICA, is the beginning of Passiontide.

In Lent, we continue to abstain from the “Alleluias” and Greater Gloria. The color is violet to signify mourning for a monarch. Flowers no longer adorn the Altar and the zimbelstern will be silent. The Litany will be used for the Prayer of the Church on Sundays and for the Preparation in the midweek services. The Thanksgiving after the Holy Communion changes from “O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, and His mercy endureth forever,” to “As often as you eat this bread and drink this cup: you do show the Lord’s death till He comes,” and a second Post-Communion Collect is added in the midweek services. The Crucifixes and Cross, however, remain unveiled and we retain the Gloria Patri. We also add the Collect for Ash Wednesday to every Service. As is the case with all fasting in Christendom, we give things up to subdue our flesh and to enhance our joy in them when they return. For the time comes, indeed, when we shall fast no more.

This season is meant to order our hearts and minds upon not only on the terrible cost of Our Lord’s gracious sacrifice on our behalf but also on His willingness to be our Savior and to reconcile us to His Father. So also, the entire season, as even our entire faith and persons, is observed in the sure and certain knowledge of the Resurrection.

The second Sunday is called REMINISCERE, which means “remember.” It comes from Psalm 25: “Remember, O LORD, Thy tender mercies and Thy loving-kindnesses.” The Gospel is the account of the Canaanite woman’s terrible battle with Our Lord for her demon-possessed daughter. The woman holds Our Lord to His Word. She insists that He remember His promises and be the Messiah.

The third Sunday is called OCULI, which means “Mine eyes.” It also comes from Psalm 25: “Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD, for He shall pluck my feet out of the net.” The Gospel recounts the healing of a deaf and mute man. His eyes were rightly on the Lord.

The fourth Sunday is called LAETARE, which means “rejoice.” It comes from Isaiah 66: “Rejoice ye with Jerusalem and be glad with her: all ye that love her.” The Gospel is the feeding of the five thousand who had ample cause for rejoicing. The fifth Sunday, JUDICA, is the beginning of Passiontide.

In Lent, we continue to abstain from the “Alleluias” and Greater Gloria. The color is violet to signify mourning for a monarch. Flowers no longer adorn the Altar and the zimbelstern will be silent. The Litany will be used for the Prayer of the Church on Sundays and for the Preparation in the midweek services. The Thanksgiving after the Holy Communion changes from “O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, and His mercy endureth forever,” to “As often as you eat this bread and drink this cup: you do show the Lord’s death till He comes,” and a second Post-Communion Collect is added in the midweek services. The Crucifixes and Cross, however, remain unveiled and we retain the Gloria Patri. We also add the Collect for Ash Wednesday to every Service. As is the case with all fasting in Christendom, we give things up to subdue our flesh and to enhance our joy in them when they return. For the time comes, indeed, when we shall fast no more.

This season is meant to order our hearts and minds upon not only on the terrible cost of Our Lord’s gracious sacrifice on our behalf but also on His willingness to be our Savior and to reconcile us to His Father. So also, the entire season, as even our entire faith and persons, is observed in the sure and certain knowledge of the Resurrection.

THE SEASON OF LENT

Our liturgical preparation for Easter takes place through three distinct periods or steps. The first was Pre-Lent. The second is Lent, which is the time between Ash Wednesday and Judica. The final step is Passiontide and Holy Week.

The first Sunday is called INVOCAVIT, which means "He shall call." It comes from Psalm 91: "He shall call upon Me, and I will answer Him." The Gospel is Our Lord's temptation in the desert and the Psalmist gives voice to Our Lord's prayer as He faces Satan in order to deliver us from evil.

The second Sunday is called REMINISCERE, which means "remember." It comes from Psalm 25: "Remember, O LORD, Thy tender mercies and Thy loving-kindnesses." The Gospel is the account of the Canaanite woman's terrible battle with Our Lord for her demon-possessed daughter. The woman holds Our Lord to His Word. THE SEASON OF LENT

Our liturgical preparation for Easter takes place through three distinct periods or steps. The first was Pre-Lent. The second is Lent, which is the time between Ash Wednesday and Judica. The final step is Passiontide and Holy Week.

ASH WEDNESDAY takes its name from the ceremony of ashes. We begin our journey by mourning for our sins and setting our faces toward Jerusalem. The Sundays are all given Latin names. Those names come from the first word or phrase of the Introit assigned for the day.

The first Sunday is called INVOCAVIT, which means “He shall call.” It comes from Psalm 91: “He shall call upon Me, and I will answer Him.” The Gospel is Our Lord’s temptation in the desert and the Psalmist gives voice to Our Lord’s prayer as He faces Satan in order to deliver us from evil.

The second Sunday is called REMINISCERE, which means “remember.” It comes from Psalm 25: “Remember, O LORD, Thy tender mercies and Thy loving-kindnesses.” The Gospel is the account of the Canaanite woman’s terrible battle with Our Lord for her demon-possessed daughter. The woman holds Our Lord to His Word. She insists that He remember His promises and be the Messiah.

The third Sunday is called OCULI, which means “Mine eyes.” It also comes from Psalm 25: “Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD, for He shall pluck my feet out of the net.” The Gospel recounts the healing of a deaf and mute man. His eyes were rightly on the Lord.

The fourth Sunday is called LAETARE, which means “rejoice.” It comes from Isaiah 66: “Rejoice ye with Jerusalem and be glad with her: all ye that love her.” The Gospel is the feeding of the five thousand who had ample cause for rejoicing. The fifth Sunday, JUDICA, is the beginning of Passiontide.

In Lent, we continue to abstain from the “Alleluias” and Greater Gloria. The color is violet to signify mourning for a monarch. Flowers no longer adorn the Altar and the zimbelstern will be silent. The Litany will be used for the Prayer of the Church on Sundays and for the Preparation in the midweek services. The Thanksgiving after the Holy Communion changes from “O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, and His mercy endureth forever,” to “As often as you eat this bread and drink this cup: you do show the Lord’s death till He comes,” and a second Post-Communion Collect is added in the midweek services. The Crucifixes and Cross, however, remain unveiled and we retain the Gloria Patri. We also add the Collect for Ash Wednesday to every Service. As is the case with all fasting in Christendom, we give things up to subdue our flesh and to enhance our joy in them when they return. For the time comes, indeed, when we shall fast no more.

This season is meant to order our hearts and minds upon not only on the terrible cost of Our Lord’s gracious sacrifice on our behalf but also on His willingness to be our Savior and to reconcile us to His Father. So also, the entire season, as even our entire faith and persons, is observed in the sure and certain knowledge of the Resurrection.

THE SEASON OF LENT

Our liturgical preparation for Easter takes place through three distinct periods or steps. The first was Pre-Lent. The second is Lent, which is the time between Ash Wednesday and Judica. The final step is Passiontide and Holy Week.

ASH WEDNESDAY takes its name from the ceremony of ashes. We begin our journey by mourning for our sins and setting our faces toward Jerusalem. The Sundays are all given Latin names. Those names come from the first word or phrase of the Introit assigned for the day.

The first Sunday is called INVOCAVIT, which means “He shall call.” It comes from Psalm 91: “He shall call upon Me, and I will answer Him.” The Gospel is Our Lord’s temptation in the desert and the Psalmist gives voice to Our Lord’s prayer as He faces Satan in order to deliver us from evil.

The second Sunday is called REMINISCERE, which means “remember.” It comes from Psalm 25: “Remember, O LORD, Thy tender mercies and Thy loving-kindnesses.” The Gospel is the account of the Canaanite woman’s terrible battle with Our Lord for her demon-possessed daughter. The woman holds Our Lord to His Word. She insists that He remember His promises and be the Messiah.

The third Sunday is called OCULI, which means “Mine eyes.” It also comes from Psalm 25: “Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD, for He shall pluck my feet out of the net.” The Gospel recounts the healing of a deaf and mute man. His eyes were rightly on the Lord.

The fourth Sunday is called LAETARE, which means “rejoice.” It comes from Isaiah 66: “Rejoice ye with Jerusalem and be glad with her: all ye that love her.” The Gospel is the feeding of the five thousand who had ample cause for rejoicing. The fifth Sunday, JUDICA, is the beginning of Passiontide.

In Lent, we continue to abstain from the “Alleluias” and Greater Gloria. The color is violet to signify mourning for a monarch. Flowers no longer adorn the Altar and the zimbelstern will be silent. The Litany will be used for the Prayer of the Church on Sundays and for the Preparation in the midweek services. The Thanksgiving after the Holy Communion changes from “O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, and His mercy endureth forever,” to “As often as you eat this bread and drink this cup: you do show the Lord’s death till He comes,” and a second Post-Communion Collect is added in the midweek services. The Crucifixes and Cross, however, remain unveiled and we retain the Gloria Patri. We also add the Collect for Ash Wednesday to every Service. As is the case with all fasting in Christendom, we give things up to subdue our flesh and to enhance our joy in them when they return. For the time comes, indeed, when we shall fast no more.

This season is meant to order our hearts and minds upon not only on the terrible cost of Our Lord’s gracious sacrifice on our behalf but also on His willingness to be our Savior and to reconcile us to His Father. So also, the entire season, as even our entire faith and persons, is observed in the sure and certain knowledge of the Resurrection.

THE SEASON OF LENT

Our liturgical preparation for Easter takes place through three distinct periods or steps. The first was Pre-Lent. The second is Lent, which is the time between Ash Wednesday and Judica. The final step is Passiontide and Holy Week.

ASH WEDNESDAY takes its name from the ceremony of ashes. We begin our journey by mourning for our sins and setting our faces toward Jerusalem. The Sundays are all given Latin names. Those names come from the first word or phrase of the Introit assigned for the day.

The first Sunday is called INVOCAVIT, which means "He shall call." It comes from Psalm 91: "He shall call upon Me, and I will answer Him." The Gospel is Our Lord's temptation in the desert and the Psalmist gives voice to Our Lord's prayer as He faces Satan in order to deliver us from evil.

The second Sunday is called REMINISCERE, which means "remember." It comes from Psalm 25: "Remember, O LORD, Thy tender mercies and Thy loving-kindnesses." The Gospel is the account of the Canaanite woman's terrible battle with Our Lord for her demon-possessed daughter. The woman holds Our Lord to His Word. She insists that He remember His promises and be the Messiah.

The third Sunday is called OCULI, which means "Mine eyes." It also comes from Psalm 25: "Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD, for He shall pluck my feet out of the net." The Gospel recounts the healing of a deaf and mute man. His eyes were rightly on the Lord.

The fourth Sunday is called LAETARE, which means "rejoice." It comes from Isaiah 66: "Rejoice ye with Jerusalem and be glad with her: all ye that love her." The Gospel is the feeding of the five thousand who had ample cause for rejoicing. The fifth Sunday, JUDICA, is the beginning of Passiontide.

In Lent, we continue to abstain from the "Alleluias" and Greater Gloria. The color is violet to signify mourning for a monarch. Flowers no longer adorn the Altar and the zimbelstern will be silent. The Litany will be used for the Prayer of the Church on Sundays and for the Preparation in the midweek services. The Thanksgiving after the Holy Communion changes from "O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, and His mercy endureth forever," to "As often as you eat this bread and drink this cup: you do show the Lord's death till He comes," and a second Post-Communion Collect is added in the midweek services. The Crucifixes and Cross, however, remain unveiled and we retain the Gloria Patri. We also add the Collect for Ash Wednesday to every Service. As is the case with all fasting in Christendom, we give things up to subdue our flesh and to enhance our joy in them when they return. For the time comes, indeed, when we shall fast no more.

This season is meant to order our hearts and minds upon not only on the terrible cost of Our Lord's gracious sacrifice on our behalf but also on His willingness to be our Savior and to reconcile us to His Father. So also, the entire season, as even our entire faith and persons, is observed in the sure and certain knowledge of the Resurrection.

The fourth Sunday is called LAETARE, which means "rejoice." It comes from Isaiah 66: "Rejoice ye with Jerusalem and be glad with her: all ye that love her." The Gospel is the feeding of the five thousand who had ample cause for rejoicing. The fifth Sunday, JUDICA, is the beginning of Passiontide.

In Lent, we continue to abstain from the "Alleluias" and Greater Gloria. The color is violet to signify mourning for a monarch. Flowers no longer adorn the Altar and the zimbelstern will be silent. The Litany will be used for the Prayer of the Church on Sundays and for the Preparation in the midweek services. The Thanksgiving after the Holy Communion changes from "O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, and His mercy endureth forever," to "As often as you eat this bread and drink this cup: you do show the Lord's death till He comes," and a second Post-Communion Collect is added in the midweek services. The Crucifixes and Cross, however, remain unveiled and we retain the Gloria Patri. We also add the Collect for Ash Wednesday to every Service. As is the case with all fasting in Christendom, we give things up to subdue our flesh and to enhance our joy in them when they return. For the time comes, indeed, when we shall fast no more.

This season is meant to order our hearts and minds upon not only on the terrible cost of Our Lord's gracious sacrifice on our behalf but also on His willingness to be our Savior and to reconcile us to His Father. So also, the entire season, as even our entire faith and persons, is observed in the sure and certain knowledge of the Resurrection.

THE SEASON OF LENT

Our liturgical preparation for Easter takes place through three distinct periods or steps. The first was Pre-Lent. The second is Lent, which is the time between Ash Wednesday and Judica. The final step is Passiontide and Holy Week.

ASH WEDNESDAY takes its name from the ceremony of ashes. We begin our journey by mourning for our sins and setting our faces toward Jerusalem. The Sundays are all given Latin names. Those names come from the first word or phrase of the Introit assigned for the day.

The first Sunday is called INVOCAVIT, which means "He shall call." It comes from Psalm 91: "He shall call upon Me, and I will answer Him." The Gospel is Our Lord's temptation in the desert and the Psalmist gives voice to Our Lord's prayer as He faces Satan in order to deliver us from evil.

The second Sunday is called REMINISCERE, which means "remember." It comes from Psalm 25: "Remember, O LORD, Thy tender mercies and Thy loving-kindnesses." The Gospel is the account of the Canaanite woman's terrible battle with Our Lord for her demon-possessed daughter. The woman holds Our Lord to His Word. She insists that He remember His promises and be the Messiah.

The third Sunday is called OCULI, which means "Mine eyes." It also comes from Psalm 25: "Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD, for He shall pluck my feet out of the net." The Gospel recounts the healing of a deaf and mute man. His eyes were rightly on the Lord.

The fourth Sunday is called LAETARE, which means "rejoice." It comes from Isaiah 66: "Rejoice ye with Jerusalem and be glad with her: all ye that love her." The Gospel is the feeding of the five thousand who had ample cause for rejoicing. The fifth Sunday, JUDICA, is the beginning of Passiontide.

THE SEASON OF LENT

Our liturgical preparation for Easter takes place through three distinct periods or steps. The first was Pre-Lent. The second is Lent, which is the time between Ash Wednesday and Judica. The final step is Passiontide and Holy Week.

ASH WEDNESDAY takes its name from the ceremony of ashes. We begin our journey by mourning for our sins and setting our faces toward Jerusalem. The Sundays are all given Latin names. Those names come from the first word or phrase of the Introit assigned for the day.

The first Sunday is called INVOCAVIT, which means "He shall call." It comes from Psalm 91: "He shall call upon Me, and I will answer Him." The Gospel is Our Lord's temptation in the desert and the Psalmist gives voice to Our Lord's prayer as He faces Satan in order to deliver us from evil.

The second Sunday is called REMINISCERE, which means "remember." It comes from Psalm 25: "Remember, O LORD, Thy tender mercies and Thy loving-kindnesses." The Gospel is the account of the Canaanite woman's terrible battle with Our Lord for her demon-possessed daughter. The woman holds Our Lord to His Word. She insists that He remember His promises and be the Messiah.

The third Sunday is called OCULI, which means "Mine eyes." It also comes from Psalm 25: "Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD, for He shall pluck my feet out of the net." The Gospel recounts the healing of a deaf and mute man. His eyes were rightly on the Lord.

The fourth Sunday is called LAETARE, which means "rejoice." It comes from Isaiah 66: "Rejoice ye with Jerusalem and be glad with her: all ye that love her." The Gospel is the feeding of the five thousand who had ample cause for rejoicing. The fifth Sunday, JUDICA, is the beginning of Passiontide.

In Lent, we continue to abstain from the "Alleluias" and Greater Gloria. The color is violet to signify mourning for a monarch. Flowers no longer adorn the Altar and the zimbelstern will be silent. The Litany will be used for the Prayer of the Church on Sundays and for the Preparation in the midweek services. The Thanksgiving after the Holy Communion changes from "O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, and His mercy endureth forever," to "As often as you eat this bread and drink this cup: you do show the Lord's death till He comes," and a second Post-Communion Collect is added in the midweek services. The Crucifixes and Cross, however, remain unveiled and we retain the Gloria Patri. We also add the Collect for Ash Wednesday to every Service. As is the case with all fasting in Christendom, we give things up to subdue our flesh and to enhance our joy in them when they return. For the time comes, indeed, when we shall fast no more.

This season is meant to order our hearts and minds upon not only on the terrible cost of Our Lord's gracious sacrifice on our behalf but also on His willingness to be our Savior and to reconcile us to His Father. So also, the entire season, as even our entire faith and persons, is observed in the sure and certain knowledge of the Resurrection.

THE SEASON OF LENT

Our liturgical preparation for Easter takes place through three distinct periods or steps. The first was Pre-Lent. The second is Lent, which is the time between Ash Wednesday and Judica. The final step is Passiontide and Holy Week.

ASH WEDNESDAY takes its name from the ceremony of ashes. We begin our journey by mourning for our sins and setting our faces toward Jerusalem. The Sundays are all given Latin names. Those names come from the first word or phrase of the Introit assigned for the day.

The first Sunday is called INVOCAVIT, which means "He shall call." It comes from Psalm 91: "He shall call upon Me, and I will answer Him." The Gospel is Our Lord's temptation in the desert and the Psalmist gives voice to Our Lord's prayer as He faces Satan in order to deliver us from evil.

The second Sunday is called REMINISCERE, which means "remember." It comes from Psalm 25: "Remember, O LORD, Thy tender mercies and Thy loving-kindnesses." The Gospel is the account of the Canaanite woman's terrible battle with Our Lord for her demon-possessed daughter. The woman holds Our Lord to His Word. She insists that He remember His promises and be the Messiah.

The third Sunday is called OCULI, which means "Mine eyes." It also comes from Psalm 25: "Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD, for He shall pluck my feet out of the net." The Gospel recounts the healing of a deaf and mute man. His eyes were rightly on the Lord.

The fourth Sunday is called LAETARE, which means "rejoice." It comes from Isaiah 66: "Rejoice ye with Jerusalem and be glad with her: all ye that love her." The Gospel is the feeding of the five thousand who had ample cause for rejoicing. The fifth Sunday, JUDICA, is the beginning of Passiontide.

In Lent, we continue to abstain from the "Alleluias" and Greater Gloria. The color is violet to signify mourning for a monarch. Flowers no longer adorn the Altar and the zimbelstern will be silent. The Litany will be used for the Prayer of the Church on Sundays and for the Preparation in the midweek services. The Thanksgiving after the Holy Communion changes from "O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, and His mercy endureth forever," to "As often as you eat this bread and drink this cup: you do show the Lord's death till He comes," and a second Post-Communion Collect is added in the midweek services. The Crucifixes and Cross, however, remain unveiled and we retain the Gloria Patri. We also add the Collect for Ash Wednesday to every Service. As is the case with all fasting in Christendom, we give things up to subdue our flesh and to enhance our joy in them when they return. For the time comes, indeed, when we shall fast no more.

This season is meant to order our hearts and minds upon not only on the terrible cost of Our Lord's gracious sacrifice on our behalf but also on His willingness to be our Savior and to reconcile us to His Father. So also, the entire season, as even our entire faith and persons, is observed in the sure and certain knowledge of the Resurrection.

THE SEASON OF LENT

Our liturgical preparation for Easter takes place through three distinct periods or steps. The first was Pre-Lent. The second is Lent, which is the time between Ash Wednesday and Judica. The final step is Passiontide and Holy Week.

ASH WEDNESDAY takes its name from the ceremony of ashes. We begin our journey by mourning for our sins and setting our faces toward Jerusalem. The Sundays are all given Latin names. Those names come from the first word or phrase of the Introit assigned for the day.

The first Sunday is called INVOCAVIT, which means “He shall call.” It comes from Psalm 91: “He shall call upon Me, and I will answer Him.” The Gospel is Our Lord’s temptation in the desert and the Psalmist gives voice to Our Lord’s prayer as He faces Satan in order to deliver us from evil.

The second Sunday is called REMINISCERE, which means “remember.” It comes from Psalm 25: “Remember, O LORD, Thy tender mercies and Thy loving-kindnesses.” The Gospel is the account of the Canaanite woman’s terrible battle with Our Lord for her demon-possessed daughter. The woman holds Our Lord to His Word. She insists that He remember His promises and be the Messiah.

The third Sunday is called OCULI, which means “Mine eyes.” It also comes from Psalm 25: “Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD, for He shall pluck my feet out of the net.” The Gospel recounts the healing of a deaf and mute man. His eyes were rightly on the Lord.

The fourth Sunday is called LAETARE, which means “rejoice.” It comes from Isaiah 66: “Rejoice ye with Jerusalem and be glad with her: all ye that love her.” The Gospel is the feeding of the five thousand who had ample cause for rejoicing. The fifth Sunday, JUDICA, is the beginning of Passiontide.

In Lent, we continue to abstain from the “Alleluias” and Greater Gloria. The color is violet to signify mourning for a monarch. Flowers no longer adorn the Altar and the zimbelstern will be silent. The Litany will be used for the Prayer of the Church on Sundays and for the Preparation in the midweek services. The Thanksgiving after the Holy Communion changes from “O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, and His mercy endureth forever,” to “As often as you eat this bread and drink this cup: you do show the Lord’s death till He comes,” and a second Post-Communion Collect is added in the midweek services. The Crucifixes and Cross, however, remain unveiled and we retain the Gloria Patri. We also add the Collect for Ash Wednesday to every Service. As is the case with all fasting in Christendom, we give things up to subdue our flesh and to enhance our joy in them when they return. For the time comes, indeed, when we shall fast no more.

This season is meant to order our hearts and minds upon not only on the terrible cost of Our Lord’s gracious sacrifice on our behalf but also on His willingness to be our Savior and to reconcile us to His Father. So also, the entire season, as even our entire faith and persons, is observed in the sure and certain knowledge of the Resurrection.

In Lent, we continue to abstain from the "Alleluias" and Greater Gloria. The color is violet to signify mourning for a monarch. Flowers no longer adorn the Altar and the zimbelstern will be silent. The Litany will be used for the Prayer of the Church on Sundays and for the Preparation in the midweek services. The Thanksgiving after the Holy Communion changes from "O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, and His mercy endureth forever," to "As often as you eat this bread and drink this cup: you do show the Lord's death till He comes," and a second Post-Communion Collect is added in the midweek services. The Crucifixes and Cross, however, remain unveiled and we retain the Gloria Patri. We also add the Collect for Ash Wednesday to every Service. As is the case with all fasting in Christendom, we give things up to subdue our flesh and to enhance our joy in them when they return. For the time comes, indeed, when we shall fast no more.

This season is meant to order our hearts and minds upon not only on the terrible cost of Our Lord's gracious sacrifice on our behalf but also on His willingness to be our Savior and to reconcile us to His Father. So also, the entire season, as even our entire faith and persons, is observed in the sure and certain knowledge of the Resurrection.

THE SEASON OF LENT

Our liturgical preparation for Easter takes place through three distinct periods or steps. The first was Pre-Lent. The second is Lent, which is the time between Ash Wednesday and Judica. The final step is Passiontide and Holy Week.

ASH WEDNESDAY takes its name from the ceremony of ashes. We begin our journey by mourning for our sins and setting our faces toward Jerusalem. The Sundays are all given Latin names. Those names come from the first word or phrase of the Introit assigned for the day.

The first Sunday is called INVOCAVIT, which means "He shall call." It comes from Psalm 91: "He shall call upon Me, and I will answer Him." The Gospel is Our Lord's temptation in the desert and the Psalmist gives voice to Our Lord's prayer as He faces Satan in order to deliver us from evil.

The second Sunday is called REMINISCERE, which means "remember." It comes from Psalm 25: "Remember, O LORD, Thy tender mercies and Thy loving-kindnesses." The Gospel is the account of the Canaanite woman's terrible battle with Our Lord for her demon-possessed daughter. The woman holds Our Lord to His Word. She insists that He remember His promises and be the Messiah.

The third Sunday is called OCULI, which means "Mine eyes." It also comes from Psalm 25: "Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD, for He shall pluck my feet out of the net." The Gospel recounts the healing of a deaf and mute man. His eyes were rightly on the Lord.

The fourth Sunday is called LAETARE, which means "rejoice." It comes from Isaiah 66: "Rejoice ye with Jerusalem and be glad with her: all ye that love her." The Gospel is the feeding of the five thousand who had ample cause for rejoicing. The fifth Sunday, JUDICA, is the beginning of Passiontide.

In Lent, we continue to abstain from the "Alleluias" and Greater Gloria. The color is violet to signify mourning for a monarch. Flowers no longer adorn the Altar and the zimbelstern will be silent. The Litany will be used for the Prayer of the Church on Sundays and for the Preparation in the midweek services. THE SEASON OF LENT

Our liturgical preparation for Easter takes place through three distinct periods or steps. The first was Pre-Lent. The second is Lent, which is the time between Ash Wednesday and Judica. The final step is Passiontide and Holy Week.

ASH WEDNESDAY takes its name from the ceremony of ashes. We begin our journey by mourning for our sins and setting our faces toward Jerusalem. The Sundays are all given Latin names. Those names come from the first word or phrase of the Introit assigned for the day.

The first Sunday is called INVOCAVIT, which means “He shall call.” It comes from Psalm 91: “He shall call upon Me, and I will answer Him.” The Gospel is Our Lord’s temptation in the desert and the Psalmist gives voice to Our Lord’s prayer as He faces Satan in order to deliver us from evil.

The second Sunday is called REMINISCERE, which means “remember.” It comes from Psalm 25: “Remember, O LORD, Thy tender mercies and Thy loving-kindnesses.” The Gospel is the account of the Canaanite woman’s terrible battle with Our Lord for her demon-possessed daughter. The woman holds Our Lord to His Word. She insists that He remember His promises and be the Messiah.

The third Sunday is called OCULI, which means “Mine eyes.” It also comes from Psalm 25: “Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD, for He shall pluck my feet out of the net.” The Gospel recounts the healing of a deaf and mute man. His eyes were rightly on the Lord.

The fourth Sunday is called LAETARE, which means “rejoice.” It comes from Isaiah 66: “Rejoice ye with Jerusalem and be glad with her: all ye that love her.” The Gospel is the feeding of the five thousand who had ample cause for rejoicing. The fifth Sunday, JUDICA, is the beginning of Passiontide.

In Lent, we continue to abstain from the “Alleluias” and Greater Gloria. The color is violet to signify mourning for a monarch. Flowers no longer adorn the Altar and the zimbelstern will be silent. The Litany will be used for the Prayer of the Church on Sundays and for the Preparation in the midweek services. The Thanksgiving after the Holy Communion changes from “O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, and His mercy endureth forever,” to “As often as you eat this bread and drink this cup: you do show the Lord’s death till He comes,” and a second Post-Communion Collect is added in the midweek services. The Crucifixes and Cross, however, remain unveiled and we retain the Gloria Patri. We also add the Collect for Ash Wednesday to every Service. As is the case with all fasting in Christendom, we give things up to subdue our flesh and to enhance our joy in them when they return. For the time comes, indeed, when we shall fast no more.

This season is meant to order our hearts and minds upon not only on the terrible cost of Our Lord’s gracious sacrifice on our behalf but also on His willingness to be our Savior and to reconcile us to His Father. So also, the entire season, as even our entire faith and persons, is observed in the sure and certain knowledge of the Resurrection.

THE SEASON OF LENT

Our liturgical preparation for Easter takes place through three distinct periods or steps. The first was Pre-Lent. The second is Lent, which is the time between Ash Wednesday and Judica. The final step is Passiontide and Holy Week.

ASH WEDNESDAY takes its name from the ceremony of ashes. We begin our journey by mourning for our sins and setting our faces toward Jerusalem. The Sundays are all given Latin names. Those names come from the first word or phrase of the Introit assigned for the day.

The first Sunday is called INVOCAVIT, which means “He shall call.” It comes from Psalm 91: “He shall call upon Me, and I will answer Him.” The Gospel is Our Lord’s temptation in the desert and the Psalmist gives voice to Our Lord’s prayer as He faces Satan in order to deliver us from evil.

The second Sunday is called REMINISCERE, which means “remember.” It comes from Psalm 25: “Remember, O LORD, Thy tender mercies and Thy loving-kindnesses.” The Gospel is the account of the Canaanite woman’s terrible battle with Our Lord for her demon-possessed daughter. The woman holds Our Lord to His Word. She insists that He remember His promises and be the Messiah.

The third Sunday is called OCULI, which means “Mine eyes.” It also comes from Psalm 25: “Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD, for He shall pluck my feet out of the net.” The Gospel recounts the healing of a deaf and mute man. His eyes were rightly on the Lord.

The fourth Sunday is called LAETARE, which means “rejoice.” It comes from Isaiah 66: “Rejoice ye with Jerusalem and be glad with her: all ye that love her.” The Gospel is the feeding of the five thousand who had ample cause for rejoicing. The fifth Sunday, JUDICA, is the beginning of Passiontide.

In Lent, we continue to abstain from the “Alleluias” and Greater Gloria. The color is violet to signify mourning for a monarch. Flowers no longer adorn the Altar and the zimbelstern will be silent. The Litany will be used for the Prayer of the Church on Sundays and for the Preparation in the midweek services. The Thanksgiving after the Holy Communion changes from “O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, and His mercy endureth forever,” to “As often as you eat this bread and drink this cup: you do show the Lord’s death till He comes,” and a second Post-Communion Collect is added in the midweek services. The Crucifixes and Cross, however, remain unveiled and we retain the Gloria Patri. We also add the Collect for Ash Wednesday to every Service. As is the case with all fasting in Christendom, we give things up to subdue our flesh and to enhance our joy in them when they return. For the time comes, indeed, when we shall fast no more.

This season is meant to order our hearts and minds upon not only on the terrible cost of Our Lord’s gracious sacrifice on our behalf but also on His willingness to be our Savior and to reconcile us to His Father. So also, the entire season, as even our entire faith and persons, is observed in the sure and certain knowledge of the Resurrection.

Our liturgical preparation for Easter takes place through three distinct periods or steps. The first was Pre-Lent. The second is Lent, which is the time between Ash Wednesday and Judica. The final step is Passiontide and Holy Week.

ASH WEDNESDAY takes its name from the ceremony of ashes. We begin our journey by mourning for our sins and setting our faces toward Jerusalem. The Sundays are all given Latin names. Those names come from the first word or phrase of the Introit assigned for the day.

The first Sunday is called INVOCAVIT, which means "He shall call." It comes from Psalm 91: "He shall call upon Me, and I will answer Him." The Gospel is Our Lord's temptation in the desert and the Psalmist gives voice to Our Lord's prayer as He faces Satan in order to deliver us from evil.

The second Sunday is called REMINISCERE, which means "remember." It comes from Psalm 25: "Remember, O LORD, Thy tender mercies and Thy loving-kindnesses." The Gospel is the account of the Canaanite woman's terrible battle with Our Lord for her demon-possessed daughter. The woman holds Our Lord to His Word. She insists that He remember His promises and be the Messiah.

The third Sunday is called OCULI, which means "Mine eyes." It also comes from Psalm 25: "Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD, for He shall pluck my feet out of the net." The Gospel recounts the healing of a deaf and mute man. His eyes were rightly on the Lord.

The fourth Sunday is called LAETARE, which means "rejoice." It comes from Isaiah 66: "Rejoice ye with Jerusalem and be glad with her: all ye that love her." The Gospel is the feeding of the five thousand who had ample cause for rejoicing. The fifth Sunday, JUDICA, is the beginning of Passiontide.

In Lent, we continue to abstain from the "Alleluias" and Greater Gloria. The color is violet to signify mourning for a monarch. Flowers no longer adorn the Altar and the zimbelstern will be silent. The Litany will be used for the Prayer of the Church on Sundays and for the Preparation in the midweek services. The Thanksgiving after the Holy Communion changes from "O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, and His mercy endureth forever," to "As often as you eat this bread and drink this cup: you do show the Lord's death till He comes," and a second Post-Communion Collect is added in the midweek services. The Crucifixes and Cross, however, remain unveiled and we retain the Gloria Patri. We also add the Collect for Ash Wednesday to every Service. As is the case with all fasting in Christendom, we give things up to subdue our flesh and to enhance our joy in them when they return. For the time comes, indeed, when we shall fast no more.

This season is meant to order our hearts and minds upon not only on the terrible cost of Our Lord's gracious sacrifice on our behalf but also on His willingness to be our Savior and to reconcile us to His Father. So also, the entire season, as even our entire faith and persons, is observed in the sure and certain knowledge of the Resurrection.
